

PATRICIA KOSSEIM

INFORMATION AND PRIVACY
COMMISSIONER OF ONTARIO

Patricia Kosseim began her five-year term as commissioner on July 1, 2020.

She has a wealth of experience and in-depth knowledge in access, privacy and health law, having worked in public, private, and health sectors, and across various jurisdictions.

Prior to her role as Ontario's commissioner, Patricia was counsel in Osler's Privacy and Data Management Group where she provided strategic advice to clients on matters of privacy, data governance, and access law.

For more than a decade, Patricia served as senior general counsel and director general with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada. Patricia has also served in executive positions with Genome Canada and the Canadian Institutes of Health Research where she developed and implemented national strategies to address legal, ethical, and social issues related to health research and genomics technologies.

She has published and spoken extensively on matters of privacy law, health law, and ethics.
